BENTON HARBOR, MICH., MONDAY, JULY 25, 1898.

TWO CENTS

A BRACE OF RUNAWAYS

Team Runs Full Speed Over Sidewalk on Water Street and Seriously Injures a Man.

MOVING PICTURE MAN VICTIM.

Another Runaway Occurred on Union Street and the Driver Was Knocked Unconscious.

A serious runaway occurred in this city last evening about 6:30 which resulted in one man getting seriously injured and several others escaping injuries by almost a miracle.

An artist named Kunz with his wife and child and a Mr. Mueller and his wife procured a two seated carriage and team from Liveryman Jones in St. Joseph and drove to this city to call upon their friend, Dr. J. J. Fabry. They drove up to the front of the doctor's drug store when in some manner a barrel standing on the sidewalk fell over and rolled by the horses which so frightened them that they dashed upon the sidewalk and ran past the Phoenix hotel at a terrific rate of speed. There were many people standing on the walk and many were sitting in front of the hotel. Everyone succeeded in getting out of harm's way except Charles F. Lester who had been sitting in front of the hotel and when he saw the team coming he got up from his chair just in time to be struck by the pole of the carriage. The blow knocked him under the horses' hoofs and horses and carriage passed over him.

The team headed for the canal but when at the corner of River and Water streets the man in the carriage succeeded in grabbing one line and turned them in a circle. Two wheels of the carriage were broken and things were generally broke up.

Mr. Lester, the man injured by the accident, was carried to the office of Dr. Sowers, where Drs. Sowers and Tutton found that one rib on the right side was fractured and his body was frightfully bruised. He was taken to the home of some friends on Center street where he is resting as well as can be expected today. Mr. Lester is of the firm of Lester & Kent who are in the city presenting the animated views at the bicycle track.

It is a wonder that more people were not injured by the runaway and had it happened a half hour earlier, when the excursionists were on their way to the Big Four train, many would have been seriously injured, if not killed.

Messrs. Kunz and Mueller, who were in the rig, paid $14 to get the carriage repaired and will pay anyone who was harmed by the accident if they will leave their address with Dr. Fabry.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY.

Farmer on Napier Avenue Narrowly Escaped Death.

At 9 o'clock Sunday night as Mr. Bartels, a farmer living on Napier avenue, was driving home over Union street his team was frightened by a piece of blowing paper and ran away.

Mr. Bartels was thrown out and the wheels ran over him. He was picked up by George Barnhart and other neighbors in an unconscious condition. He was taken home and this morning was able to walk though his head and body is badly bruised.

FIGHT OVER.

Lieut. Daigneau Thinks It's Over With Company I.

In a letter from Lieut. Daigneau written at Santiago July 9 to his parents, he says:

"We will not get any more fighting unless attacked by some small company. With the fall of Santiago I think the war will be practically over and the volunteers here sent back to the United States. We are guarding the base of supplies and taking care of the sick and wounded and making a record for ourselves in that line. Sick and wounded soldiers will never forget the 33d.

"Our wounded man Felch is out walking around. While we have a few sick men none are seriously ill. While we will get no credit for the fall of Santiago, we have been through one battle and are on record with the men having shown great coolness under fire. We have been worked nearly to death building bridges, unloading boats and the like but we have been ordered to rest. The lady nurses deserve great praise, and are New York society girls.

"It is awful to go through the hospital and see the sick and wounded, but the most pitiful sight I ever saw are the women and children coming in from Santiago. The road is lined with these refugees, women carrying bundles too heavy for bronchos. The men treat the women like dogs."

Lieut. Daigneau hopes he will be allowed to accompany the Porto Rico expedition. He adds that Company I hated to give up Stevens and Morton, two of the merriest of the boys in the company.

10,000 MORE SPANIARDS FOLLOW TORAL'S EXAMPLE.

Santiago, July 25.—It is reported that Gen. Lugo and ten thousand Spanish soldiers, who have been holding Holguin, have evacuated the town. If true, report indicates the intention of the Spaniards to surrender the entire east end of the island. The probable plan is to concentrate forces and make a determined stand in western provinces at Havana.

SAMPSON'S REPORT OF NAVAL FIGHT WILL BE MADE PUBLIC TONIGHT

Washington, July 25.—Secretary Long has completed his examination of Admiral Sampson's report of the destruction of Cervera's fleet and the document will be given the press tonight.

BLOCKADE RUNNER

Regulas Sailed Under English Flag.

Awful Tales of Suffering and High Prices

Key West, July 25.—The search of the prize steamer Regulas has revealed a large quantity of mail from Americans and Spaniards in Cuba to friends in this country and Spain.

The letters tell stories of terrible suffering principally near Sagua la Grande where the Regulas landed. Her cargo consisted principally of provisions, all of which were seized by the Spanish soldiers as soon as she landed. The eatables brought fabulous prices. Flour sold for $35 per sack, rice $75 per sack.

The military authorities refused to allow any private individuals to buy any part of the cargo, which sold for more than $200,000. It is believed that this money will be found on board the boat after further search.

An agreement was found among the ship's papers signed by the owners of the cargo, whereby the latter agreed to pay the owners $50,000 in the event of capture.

Although the vessel was sailing under the English flag and owned by an English firm the authorities claim to have evidence that she is a blockade runner and will be a prize of war.

"Headlight Flashes" Ditched.

The first load of "Headlight Flashes" was brought over from the A. B. Morse printing house this afternoon on a drag owned by Slater & Harrold. A street car track pulled a wheel off the drag and "Headlight Flashes" were ditched.

Washington, July 25.—The First Florida, Second Georgia and Fifth Maryland volunteers have been ordered to Porto Rico.

Washington, July 25.—Gen. Brooks will sail for Porto Rico tomorrow.

BELIEVE LANDED.

President Takes This View of Miles' Expedition.

Washington, July 25.—There was no meeting of the war council today at the White House. Secretary Long was in conference with the president a short time. When the latter was asked if any important naval move was to be made he said that nothing definite had been decided.

Nothing was heard from Gen. Miles today but it is believed by the president and his advisers that he has landed on Porto Rico. Transports are being made ready and a vast army will sail for Porto Rico this week.

MILES' MEN ARRIVE.

Were Probably at the Landing Point in Porto Rico Some Time Yesterday.

MAY HAVE HAD A FIGHT BY NOW.

Depends Largely on the Dons, However—Shafter Reports the Health Situation at Santiago—The Garcia Letter and a Memorial to President McKinley Very Much Alike—Sequel's Alleged Break Confirmed—He and Other Enterprising Spirits Get the Grand Bounce for Their Enterprise.

London, July 25.—A special from Madrid says that General Augusti, captain general of the Philippines, has telegraphed to the government as follows: "The Americans are about to attack Manila. Grave events are impending."

Washington, July 25.—It was said at the war department late yesterday that no news can be expected from any official source as to General Miles' movements until today at the earliest. It is calculated that he arrived last evening or last night at the point on the coast of Porto Rico selected as the rendezvous for all the vessels of the expedition. Whether or not he will undertake to make a landing in advance of the arrival of the whole expedition probably will depend entirely upon conditions as he finds them. Should there be no Spanish force, or at least an inconsiderable one, on the coast the troops will be landed to relieve them from the disastrous effects of being confined closely on shipboard under a tropical sun. The general has with him sufficient artillery to hold any position he may choose to occupy, supplemented as this artillery will be by the guns of his naval convoy. Meanwhile the department is making every effort to hurry along the remainder of the expedition.

Was the Garcia Letter a Fake? General Shafter reported by cable yesterday that the condition of the troops at Santiago was rapidly improving, and said he hoped in the course of a day or two to have them all located in comfortable camps where they may rest and recuperate, and where the sick may recover. He is feeding 11,000 of the Spanish prisoners of war. The general makes no mention of the alleged letter from Garcia to himself, nor does he speak of any tract on between them, whence the department has come to doubt the authority of published stories on these subjects. In fact it is now reported that the letter was written by a newspaper correspondent, who has been on General Castillo's staff and that it is doubtful if Garcia ever saw the scribble.

Sequel's Break Is a Fact. From Shafter's report it would appear that animated by an ambition to take a prominent part in the important events following each other in rapid succession at Santiago after the initiation of the negotiations for the surrender of the city a few of the correspondents were guilty of grave breaches of military law, necessitating prompt corrective action by General Shafter. Thus, for instance, one correspondent in his efforts to take part in the flag raising over the city had resisted the military officers in the execution of their duty and even attempted a personal assault upon the commanding general. This made him subject to summary and severe punishment, even death; yet General Shafter contented himself with expelling that correspondent from Cuba.

Other Newspaper Men in Trouble. A more serious offense, from the fact that it might easily have led to rioting and loss of life, was that of three other correspondents who, it appears by General Shafter's report, by circulating inflammatory posters stirred up the town. They were likewise deported. No mention is made of any other cases requiring attention and it is indicated that the relations between the newspaper men and the army officers at Santiago are generally amicable and satisfactory. In an entirely different manner General Shafter takes notice of some of the severely critical newspaper articles about the condition of the troops before Santiago while they lay in the trenches. He admits that there was a shortage of tobacco for a time, but shows conclusively that there was no lack of the necessities of life and that the troops were adequately supplied with hard bread, bacon, sugar and coffee. Although this bill of fare is not as extensive as that afforded troops in garrison it embodies the main features of the army ration while on field service and removed from a base of supplies.

ARMS DRAFTS ANOTHER DOCUMENT Gives McKinley a Hint in the Direction of Garcia's Protest.

Santiago de Cuba, July 25.—A document which is being circulated for signature among Cuban residents in Santiago, addressed to the president of the United States, thanking him for the co-operation of the army of the United States, and expressing the hope that the American government will recognize Cuban sovereignty in the surrendered portion of the province of Santiago de Cuba, was drafted by Arms, the newspaper correspondent on the staff of the Cuban General Castillo who drafted the alleged letter of protest from General Garcia to General Shafter. Following is the text of the document:

"To President McKinley: The undersigned, Cubans by birth, landowners and residents of Santiago de Cuba, representing with their families the non-combatant population that suffered for many years Spanish rule in this section of the island, wish to express their warmest thanks to the people of the United States for delivering them from the insufferable yoke of Spanish rule. They also wish to express their absolute confidence in the good faith and humanitarian purposes of the United States, and in the pledge that the territory of Cuba is not to be conquered by the American troops for purposes of annexation.

"We believe, and would urge, that our own people are capable of fulfilling the international obligation to establish a government for the island. Cuba in the course of a few years—part of the territory of the United States, thus increasing the comfort and happiness of this people; but now all desire a government of our own as compensation for the suffering and heroism of our army, and the definite establishment of the Cuban republic, with Cuban authorities, in accordance with the resolutions of the United States.

"We hope that the present state of affairs at Santiago, where Spaniards are still the administrators of our interests, property and fate, will be brief; that the city may soon be turned over to the Cubans, and that our army may enter, the flag of Cuba waving triumphantly beside the American flag as Cuban soldiers fought side by side with the Americans against the common enemy."

GEN. HENRY PRAISES THE BOYS.

He Also Says That Shafter Is the Right Man in the Right Place.

Washington, July 25.—In a personal letter to Adjutant General Corbin General Henry, who is an experienced Indian fighter, speaks as follows of General Shafter's army and of the general himself: "The work done by these troops since landing, their heroism and patience under discomfort, heat and rain, calls for the highest praise; and the work accomplished by Shafter, his pertinacity and 'mashed fativeness' under adverse circumstances and discomforts is a revelation to me."

GENERAL HENRY.

"I doubt if there is another officer who would have 'got there' as he did. Our loss was most unfortunate, but from character of country could not have been avoided. If we had to 'go there' last night the Eighth Ohio were almost drowned out and it pours today; that's the climate. Too much credit cannot be given the heroism, pertinacity, pluck, patience and endurance of men who have borne the brunt of this week." General Henry also speaks in high praise of the work of Clara Barton and Mrs. Addison Porter.

PLAIN BREACH OF FAITH.

What General Castillo's Brother Calls Our Policy as to Cuba. Santiago, July 25, via Kingston, July 25.—The Cubans here resent General Shafter's attitude in ignoring General Garcia and in refusing to allow the Cuban troops to enter Santiago or to consult General Garcia on the terms of the surrender of the city. General Garcia's action in withdrawing his troops into the interior, his letter to General Shafter, and his resignation of his command forwarded to General Gomez, are approved and applauded by all classes of natives. General Garcia refused to accept a subordinate place, insisting that he was an ally.

General Shafter's answer saying that this was a war between the United States and Spain, and President McKinley's instructions with reference to the administration of the surrendered district are interpreted as a tacit avowal of American intention to annex the island and not to grant independence. This is opposed by the Cubans. Senor Juquin Castillo, president of the San Carlos Cuban club, and a brother of General Castillo, urges an official protest to President McKinley without delay, saying: "Silence now would indicate our consent to the American attitude, which is a plain breach of faith that the Cubans cannot possibly tolerate."

Number of Troops Captured. Washington, July 25.—The war department has received a dispatch from General Shafter dated Santiago, July 24, in which says: Lieutenant Miles has returned from San Luis and Palma Soriano where he went four days ago to receive surrender of Spanish troops. They were on the verge of starvation and I have to send them rations tomorrow. If the numbers keep up as they have there will be about 24,000 to ship away—nearly 12,000 here, 3,000 from San Luis, 6,000 from Guantanamo, and over 2,000 at Sagua and Baracoa.

Tampa Volunteers to Go. Washington, July 25.—The announcement is made at the war department that three and possibly five of the volunteer army regiments now at Tampa will be sent to join General Miles at Porto Rico. The volunteer organizations now at Tampa include the One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Indiana.

Got Under Way for Porto Rico. Tampa, Fla., July 25.—The transports Deatur, Miller, Arcadia, Cherokee and Florida got under way for Porto Rico at various hours Saturday night between 11 o'clock and daylight. The transport Morgan was loading yesterday and the men in charge hope to get her out some time today.

Gen. Duffield Convalescing. Washington, July 25.—General Duffield, who has been engaged in the campaign at Santiago and who is convalescing from yellow fever, has been given permission to return to the United States if he desires.

Postoffice at Santiago. Santiago de Cuba, July 25.—The post-office here was opened Saturday, 200 bags of mail of the steamer Lampasas, brought by the Comal, being distributed by Louis Kempner, the postmaster.

Was Murdered, Not Drowning. Ashland, Wis., July 25.—Daniel C. McRea, who was brought here Friday night, having been reported accidentally drowned at Valley City, N. D., was murdered. His father has arrived from there and says the young man was attacked by a gang of toughs, robbed and murdered. His body being thrown in

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 869.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., MONDAY, JULY 25, 1898.

TWO CENTS

BELIEF IN PRAYER.

Benton Harbor Recognized Its Power
Last Night.

Touching Scene at the Union Y. M.
C. A. Meeting.

Silent Prayers of Congregation Offered for Boys in Blue.

An Able Address by Hon. Thomas O'Hara.

Noted Lawyer and Jurist Made Religious Confession.

The four or five hundred people who attended the union Y. M. C. A. meeting at the First Methodist church last evening will never forget the occasion. The meeting was in the interests of the grand work being carried on by the Young Men's Christian association in the army.

No revival meeting ever warmed the hearts and opened the sympathies of people as did these exercises. The choir was composed of a score of young men whose voices blended in one grand harmony. Rev. Dr. Craig read a lesson from the scripture. Rev. Mr. Omerren offered prayer, and then followed the reading of letters from two of the boys who went forth from Benton Harbor to battle for their country.

The letters were read by Rev. E. A. Hoffman. The first was written by Ralph Shauman who described the good work the Y. M. C. A. was doing among the soldiers. The second letter was from Corporal Edward J. Stevens, a member of Mr. Hoffman's congregation. Before he left for the front Mr. Stevens was on the program to lead a Christian Endeavor meeting three months in advance. When his evening came to lead the meeting of course the soldier was not there, but instead was a letter from him to be read at the meeting.

The young officer wrote that he never realized what a comfort the church and Christian Endeavor were to him until he was deprived of them. He described the prayer meetings in camp. At one of the testimonial meetings a rough soldier surprised them all by speaking. He said that he had promised his wife and children when he left for war that he would become a Christian but he had failed to keep the promise but he had fully resolved from that time on to make it good. Another testified that no one was ashamed to belong to Uncle Sam's army and he declared it was a much greater honor to be a member of God's army. It was a helpful sight to see men with their side arms singing and praying. About the only songs sung in camp are gospel songs.

The letter of Corporal Stevens goes on to describe how one of the Benton Harbor boys received a Bible from his mother. On the fly leaf in the mother's hand was written: "I have never been a Christian and have never encouraged you to be one. When I saw you board the cars at Benton Harbor I wished you were a Christian. I read this little book every day and on the back fly leaf you will find marked passages." The night the Bible was received the boy was found at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. The letter closed with the Christian Endeavor motto: "The Lord watch between me and thee while we are absent one from another."

The address of the evening was delivered by Hon. Thomas O'Hara and that noted lawyer and jurist spoke of the faith he wished he had but did not possess and in a simple way told of the good the churches did in the community and how regular attendance at Sunday school had made better his own son. He made no attempt at oratory but what was better opened the secret hopes of his own heart, which touched the hearts of others until there played about his words the strains of the tender music of sympathy.

At the close of the address James Pound, the father of Lieut. Pound, arose in the center of the church and with a voice which displayed great emotion, requested that the congregation spend a moment in silent prayer for the boys in blue. Every head was bowed and hundreds of silent prayers ascended closing with an earnest prayer by Rev. W. P. French.

The Y. M. C. A. has already spent $20,000 in its army work and will require $30,000 more to September 1.

Envelopes were distributed and a good amount raised for the cause.

JUDGE O'HARA'S ADDRESS.

Chattel Mortgages and Preaching Don't Go Together—His Own Religion.

Judge Thomas O'Hara spoke as follows:

"I am glad to be with you tonight. I came to St. Joseph when I was a boy. Twenty years ago there were but few men and women in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor with whom I was not acquainted. I have lived in both towns and many of your people know my history. I have many reasons to love the home town of Wells Brown, P. M. Kinney, A. B. Riford, John Morrison, H. C. Morton, S. F. Heath and many others. Why make mention of these names? Because they were not only representative citizens of your town but they were good and kind to me. Hundreds of others in this town have been kind to me and although I came here a poor boy never for that or any other reason have I been given snub or slight by any citizen of Benton Harbor. Do you wonder that I love your town?"

"I love men, women and children more than I love lands, buildings and metals. Wherever I have been I have never thought of your town, have never seen its name in print, without tender recollections of many of your citizens."

"This meeting has been called to provide for the welfare of the boys who went out from here in response to the president's call for volunteers. We knew most of these boys, have known them from their childhood. The boys from Company I, are not all from Benton Harbor but whether their homes are here, or in St. Joseph, Berrien Springs, Niles, Gallien, Coloma, Waterliet, Twelve Corners, Baroda, Riverside, Milburg, Bridgman, Decatur, Fennville, Chicago, South Arm, or any other town, our hearts go out to them and we pray God to bless and protect them."

"My parents are Roman Catholics. They were born in Ireland. I have never had reason to be ashamed of their religion or their nationality. Careless when a boy, my carelessness ripened into indifference and for 25 years I have not attended church of any denomination except upon funeral occasions and a few times when I have accompanied friends and relatives. I have never renounced Catholicism nor have I ever entertained a thought of embracing Protestantism. Would to God I had the sincere and sweet belief that so many Catholics and Protestants profess to have. Give me that belief and give me strength sufficient to live a Christian life and my happiness would be well-nigh complete and little would I care whether I worshipped under Catholic or Protestant roof."

"Do not say to me that a man is a hypocrite who does not practice what he preaches. A man may use intoxicants and yet attempt, and be thoroughly sincere and conscientious in his efforts, to point out to his sons, to his employees and others, the great danger there may be in the use of intoxicants. A man may gamble and be guilty of immoralities and yet it would well-nigh break his heart to see his children follow in his footsteps."

"Seldom indeed, is there a fallen woman who would not give her life to save her daughter's virtue and the books are full of cases of which women, weak in everything but love, have so watched over and cared for their daughters as to fit them to grace the throne of either wife or mother in any home."

"I have not attended church because I have not cared to play the hypocrite, knowing as I have that the belief so commonly professed by others had never come to me and that it would be mockery for me to join in certain exercises in any church. I have never failed, however, to believe that churches and church work in any community tend toward the betterment of the condition of the people in that community and that it would be a sorry day for our people to witness no churches and no religion in our country."

"I believe that the Sunday school is one of the best institutions in America. The surroundings, influences, the teachings, the companionships and the associations are generally good. Very few of the teachers are corrupt and very few of the children are ever corrupted by their teachers or class members. My boy Barratt left Central America when he was but 14 years of age. He was in Michigan two years without home of his own and was far removed from parents, brother and sister. From the time he was four years old he had attended Sunday school regularly. He liked the work, his teachers, the boys and girls with whom he studied. When he returned from Central America he again took up the work and the members of the families with whom he boarded encouraged him. I believe that Barratt is a better boy, that his heart is warmer and his thoughts are cleaner than if he had never attended the Sunday school."

After speaking of the Y. M. C. A. work in general Mr. O'Hara said:

"Should it be practicable to establish Y. M. C. A. tents in Cuba and other sections which our boys have invaded I hope and pray for their establishment and I pray too that big-hearted and broad-minded men may be given charge of the tents. A minister of the gospel cannot be a successful preacher and at the same time let out his money on chattel mortgage securities. No matter how eloquent he may be in the pulpit, how strong in conference or convention, how bright and clever in social gatherings, the minister who, while acting as a pastor, establishes a reputation as a clever financier is not longer fit to minister to all the spiritual wants of his congregation. Send down men with hearts like those of G. W. Gosling of Berrien Springs and Herbert L. Potter of Buchanan and you will have men whose time devoted to the boys' welfare will leave no time for trading sutler's goods or discounting I. O. U's."

In closing his address Judge O'Hara said: "God bless this republic, God bless our people, God bless our soldiers and sailors, officers and privates, rich, poor, black, white, Protestant, Catholic, Jew, Mormon and unbeliever. May God grant us speedy and honorable peace, may He cause our officers to treat the privates with kindness and consideration."

"And if it shall be God's will that any of our own boys shall give their lives in the struggle let us pray that God may give to their relatives the sweet belief that the boys have gone to another and better world there to await the coming of their dear ones in Michigan."

A RAPID RISE.

How a Bainbridge Boy Has prospered in Chicago.

It may be interesting to some to know that Edwin S. Spencer, who was born in Bainbridge and lived there until after his marriage, went to Chicago 12 years ago with limited means with his family consisting of his wife and three children and engaged to work for a firm at $1.50 per day. Mr. Spencer is a son of Charles A. Spencer of Benton township, has a good, common school education and by his good habits, industry and economy has become a partner of the firm which is doing an extensive business in marbling and tiling. The firm has recently taken a contract for $40,000 to marble and tile a building at Madison, Wis., and has contracts now for a year.

Direful Rheumatism.

MARVELOUS POWERS OF ENDUR-ANCE AMONG THOSE WHO SUFFER.

What Gloria Tonic is Doing to Cure
the Dreaded Malady.

The remarkable endurance of those who suffer with a severe form of rheumatism is without a counterpart in painful illness. Think of 25 years' constant fight against the malady with only brief periods of relief. It is no wonder that when finally cured such sufferers should write letters in testimony of the fact. Many people are suspicious of such letters. They either do not believe the facts or else they believe their condition to be very much worse and beyond the aid of medicine. A single trial of Gloria Tonic will give such pronounced relief in the very worst cases of rheumatism as to set aside all doubt. Such a letter as following shows the genuine appreciation in which Gloria Tonic is held: "Mr. J. A. Smith: Do not be offended for not having written before, but accept my heartfelt thanks for your 'Gloria Tonic' which completely cured me. I suffered for 25 years, am 70 years of age and thank God that I am well again. I can work better now than I could 10 years ago. Again accept my sincerest thanks and remain, yours very truly, H. Buchholz, Norborne, Mo., December 11, 1896."

Gloria Tonic is made by John A. Smith, 220 Summerfield Church Building, Milwaukee, Wis., and is on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 per box.

By sending your name and address to Mr. Smith he will be glad to send you a sample package of the remedy by mail prepaid so you may give it a test before buying the regular box at your druggist's.

AGUINALDO, the insurgent leader in the Philippines, who has proclaimed himself dictator, will be a gorgeous spectacle when he adorns himself with all the insignia of office. As president of the council, he will wear a gold collar, with a triangular gold pendant, on which will be engraved a sun and three stars. He will carry a gold whistle and a stick with a gold tassel. Nobody in the United States will have any objection to this magnificence. Aguinaldo may wear ostrich feathers in his hair and a ring in his nose if he feels like it but if he wants to keep out of trouble he had better not interfere with Admiral Dewey.

GRAVE OF PATRICK HENRY.

Not in Richmond, but in Charlotte, Where He Lived.

Every now and then we see in some newspaper the query, "Where is Patrick Henry buried?" and tourists in Richmond constantly ask to be shown his grave, with the mistaken idea that it is in that city, where much of his public career was passed. Few people comparatively know that the man who acquired the title of "The Tongue of the Revolution" lies in a quiet grave on the estate in Charlotte county where he formerly lived. Over it is a marble slab inscribed with one line, "His fame his best epitaph."

The estate lies on, Staunton river, 88 miles from the town of Lynchburg, near the border line which separates Charlotte and Campbell counties. It derived its name of Red Hill from the peculiar color of the soil in that vicinity. When Patrick Henry bought the place, it comprised about 3,500 acres. The land is rich—there was a saying in the neighborhood that poor land and Henry could never be mentioned together—corn grows there as high as a man on horseback; there is a general air of smiling fields and abundant prosperity. Its situation in early times was very remote. Neighbors were few, one of the nearest being the celebrated John Randolph of Roanoke, who lived in his chosen solitude 15 miles away.

Red Hill is now owned by Henry's grandson, William Wirt Henry, a clever, cultivated gentleman of the "old school." He has in his possession some most interesting relics of his celebrated grandfather, including the desk he always used, which still contains his letters from Lafayette, Washington, Madison and other great men of early days; the large, round backed chair in which Patrick Henry died and a portrait of him by the elder Sully, under which hangs a yellowed slip of paper, signed by Chief Justice John Marshall and several others of his friends, testifying to the faithfulness of the likeness.—Philadelphia Press.

FOUR BATTERIES OFF.

Men and Guns Leave Camp Thomas to Reinforce Gen. Thomas in Porto Rico.

ILLINOIS AND INDIANA ARTILLERY

Two of the Organizations That Are En Route to Hampton Roads—Gen. Grant's Brigade Scheduled to Leave Next—The Entire First Corps Stands a Good Show for Active Service—Knights of Pythias Establish a Hospital.

Newport News, Va., July 25.—The Third Illinois regiment arrived here yesterday afternoon in three special trains from Camp Thomas. The first train, bringing General Haines and the Second battalion in command of Major Shand, came in at 12:55 and the others rapidly followed. The men were camped north of the city on the banks of the James river. They will embark today on one of the transports for Porto Rico.

Chickamauga Park, July Ga., 25.—Although General James F. Wade assumed command at Camp Thomas Saturday as the successor of General Brooke he has not yet selected a location for his headquarters and is debating whether he will locate on the site General Brooke had his headquarters near Battlefield station or pitch his tent on Snodgrass hill.

The only movement yesterday in connection with the Porto Rican expedition was the departure for Newport News of four batteries of light artillery as follows: Battery A, of Missouri; Battery A, of Illinois; Battery B, of Pennsylvania, and the Twenty-seventh Indiana battery. These batteries broke camp at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, marching to Rossville. Each of the four batteries had six guns, 100 horses and mules and from 140 to 175 officers and men. The first battery to leave was Battery A, of Illinois, commanded by Captain Phil Yeager; the next was the Twenty-seventh Indiana battery, commanded by Captain J. B. Curtis.

Troops Which Will Follow Next.
The Third brigade of the First division, First corps, will be the next to leave Camp Thomas, and will probably go today or tomorrow. General Wade, it was authoritatively stated last night, received orders at a late hour last evening to rush this brigade to Newport News as promptly as he could get the necessary cars in position. The brigade consists of the First and Third Kentucky and the Fifth Illinois. It is the understanding that the First brigade of the Second division will be the next to follow the above brigade. According to the present plan regiments will continue to go out as fast as practicable until the First corps is exhausted.

Sunday at Camp Thomas.
The usual divine services by the chaplains and by the evangelists were conducted yesterday throughout the park. One hundred and sixty-two patients belonging to the volunteer army were removed yesterday from Letter hospital at this place to a special train and taken to McPherson barracks hospital at Atlanta. Owing to the limited supply of surgeons and medical assistants at this point it has been deemed best to send those of the sick who have so far recovered as to be able to be safely moved to other points where they can be cared for, and at the same time make room in the Letter hospital for the sick who are now in the division and regimental field hospitals.

Knights of Pythias Hospital.
The Knights of Pythias lodges of this city have joined in a movement to establish a hospital at Chattanooga for the care of the sick members of the order who are in the volunteer army here. A joint committee has been appointed to lease a commodious building and provide competent nurses. The hospital will be open this week. It is the purpose to receive all soldier Pythians who are sick, those who are able to pay a reasonable fee, and those who are not able to be cared for free of charge. The supreme lodge will be asked at its meeting in Indianapolis next month to make an appropriation for the hospital. Pythians in all parts of the country are requested to contribute.

DELAY FOR CAMP TANNER MEN.

Some Equipment Which Will Not Be There for Several Days.

Springfield, Ills., July 25.—There has been another delay in getting supplies for the soldiers at Camp Tanner and this may delay the contemplated movement of the troops. Major Ballou has received a message from Rock Island stating that the haversacks and canteens asked for would not be sent until the latter part of this week. Unless the command is moved ahead without waiting for these supplies the Ninth will not get away tomorrow, as was expected.

It is now settled that the Eighth will be attached to General Lee's division and it will probably be under General Barkley, of this city. There appears to be no foundation for the story printed in a Chicago paper to the effect that Major Ballou is to be dropped from the service because the Seventh regiment is to be reorganized with only two major. Ballou has been mustered into the volunteer service and he cannot be dropped because of the change of organization.

Captain Ora Havill, of Company G, Ninth regiment, narrowly escaped being taken into custody Saturday by the sheriff of Randolph county, and was only saved by the timely arrival of his father, Frank W. Havill, and his attorney, M. H. Mundy, of Mount Carmel, who gave the necessary bail. Havill is under two indictments for shortages in the funds of the Chester penitentiary, of which he was chief clerk.

NEARLY 400 NEW CASES OF FEVER

In One Day at Santiago—Many Cases of Yellow—Report of Deaths.

Washington, July 25.—A dispatch received last night by Adjutant General Corbin says that 396 new cases of fever of all classes were reported in his camp before Santiago Saturday. As the same dispatch reports only four deaths—and none of them from yellow fever—from among the hundreds of cases of fever known to exist in the camp, the war authorities are more than ever inclined to the belief that the cases of yellow fever are of mild type.

Some clear cases of yellow fever are reported, but the officials say they are few as compared with those of other fevers. General Shafter's dispatch was as follows, dated July 24: "Number of new cases of fever of all classes for yesterday, approximately 396; deaths not previously reported—Private Daniel A. Stone, Company D, First Illinois infantry, typhoid fever, July 20; Sergeant J. Blair, regimental quartermaster, Twelfth infantry, died July 22, dengue fever and asthma; July 23, of malarial fever, Privates William Peacock and Caratt Learnshock, both of Company E, Second infantry."

Saturday night the war department received a dispatch from General Shafter stating that Private F. A. Percival, Company F, Thirty-third Michigan, died at Siboney of the yellow fever. He adds: "The situation is not alarming, though there are many sick with fever—about 1,500. Only a small part of those sick are down with the yellow fever—about 10 per cent., 150 in all."

Gen. Grant Drills His Troops.

Chickamauga Park, Ga., July 25.—The Third brigade, commanded by General Fred Grant—Fifth Illinois, under the command of Lieutenant Frank P. Wells; First Kentucky, directed by Col. Castleman; and the Third Kentucky, by Colonel Smith—went on an extended order drill Saturday from 6 o'clock a. m. until nearly noon. General Grant mounted a cannon and directed the movement of the troops from that elevation. The movements of the troops consisted of maneuvers similar to those employed in time of battle.

Michigan Man Dies at Sea.

New York, July 25.—The United States hospital ship Relief arrived at quarantine yesterday afternoon from Siboney with 125 sick and wounded officers and soldiers on board. There were a number died en route who were buried at sea, among them Otis Marr, private Thirty-third Michigan. P. J. Manning, Thirty-third Michigan is among the wounded.

Two Soldiers Die in Camp.

Charleston, S. C., July 25.—The death of Lieutenant Hector R. Swift, of West Superior, Wis., is announced at the hospital here, of typhoid.
San Francisco, July 25.—Corporal Daniel Newsome, of Company D, Fifty-first Iowa, died at Camp Merritt, Saturday, of pneumonia.

WAR REVENUE LAW DECISION

Applies to Brokers but Not to Real Estate Agents Simply.

Washington, July 25.—In a decision made Saturday the commissioner of internal revenue holds that there is no provision in the new revenue act under which special tax can be held to be imposed on real estate agents, or any person or firm for simply buying or selling real estate on commission, either for themselves or for others; also that the law is aimed at a class of men known generally in the community as brokers.

"A man is a broker under the act," the decision says, "who negotiates purchases or sales of stocks, bonds, notes, etc., in the course of business; and this applies to real estate agents, insurance agents, attorneys, or persons or firms who in connection with their profession or occupation make is a regular part of their business to negotiate purchases of stocks, bonds, notes, etc., either for themselves or others."

Tawas City Savings Bank Suspends.

Lansing, Mich., July 25.—The state banking department was officially notified that the Tawas Savings bank, of Tawas City, having a capital stock of $25,000 and a local deposit of $15,000, has suspended. The failure is brought about by the financial embarrassment of M. H. Frech, of West Branch, president of the bank. The deposits were nearly all paid back before the bank suspended.

Record in the Hammer-Throw.

Boston, July 25.—John Flanagan, of the New York Athletic club, broke the world's amateur record for throwing the sixteen-pound hammer at the big athletic meet of St. Augustine's parish in South Boston Saturday, his throw being 158 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Receiver for the Home Building.

Milwaukee, July 25.—Upon application of Julius Wechselberg, president of the Home Building and Loan association, A. W. Hard has been appointed receiver of the association, giving a bond of $70,000, which is nearly double the amount of the assets.

WHEREFORE HE SENT NOT ROSES.

(Adaptation from Greek prose of Philostratus.)

Thou blamest me because I sent
No roses unto thee.
But never slight to thee was meant,
Nor lack of love in me.

Nay, but I thought thee auburn hair
A garland more divine,
And crowned with thy roses fair,
Thou hadst no need of mine.

In Homer Melenger claims
No wreath but tresses bright.
Roses were flame upon the flames
Or light adorning light.

The rose is jealous, know it well,
And soon it falls and dies,
And legend saith its birth befell
In melancholy wise.

For Cyprus, hasting on her way,
Was pierced by a thorn,
And from her blood, the Cyprians say,
The cruel rose was born.

Wouldst thou be crowned? Oh, beware
Those blossoms pitiless.
They spared not Cyprus. Would they spare
Thy fragrant loveliness?

Then blame me not because I sent
No roses unto thee,
For never slight to thee was meant,
Nor lack of love in me!

—Percy Osborn in Fortnightly Review.

A DASH FOR NEWS.

I was the only American operator in eastern Cuba in February and March, 1898, which were very busy months in the cable office at Santiago, where I had been for four years. In the early part of 1895 we seldom handled more than 30 messages a day, but after the insurrection began the number rose to 90 and 100 daily, increasing a little every month.

The cable from Santiago to Spain goes under sea first to Kingston, Jamaica, thence to Porto Rico, thence to St. Croix, and from there to Paramaribo and Pernambuco in Brazil. Cables from Pernambuco cross the south Atlantic to St. Vincent, Cape Verde islands, and from St. Vincent other cables extend to Madeira, thence to Lisbon, and overland to Madrid. There is also a less direct cable from Pernambuco to St. Louis, in Senegal, Africa, and thence to the Canary islands and Cadiz.

Beside myself there was but one other operator in the Santiago office, Laurin Merode, a young Spaniard, who had learned cable work at Lisbon. We thought that 100 messages daily made work enough, but over 800 passed the day after the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor. Four more operators were needed, and we called to Havana for help, but no notice was taken of our appeal, and rather than desert our posts and leave the company's business undone we slaved night and day, always hoping the pressure would moderate.

One day we sent 13,742 words in over 1,100 dispatches, yet we were two hours "back" at midnight, with Havana fuming at us over the land wire, and still hurrying messages through the Cienfuegos cable. There were Spanish government cipher messages from Sagasta to Blanco, and Blanco cipher to Sagasta; reams of bombast from the Cuban correspondents of the Imparcial and Correo for Madrid, followed by more cipher to Weyler at Barcelona from his brother officers at Havana, and then the bankers and merchants quoting, selling and ordering!

To add to our vexations the "mouse mill" of the siphon recorder gave trouble constantly, and the clockwork that carries the record tape broke down every day or two. Now, a Spaniard is utterly without native ingenuity. Merode was a tolerably good operator, but when it came to rectifying faults of the instrument he was an infant, and all such tasks fell on me.

Anything like clockwork I can "tinker," but the mouse mill that works the siphon pen is a very delicate bit of mechanism, which assists the faint electric impulses that come great distances through the cable to move the ink point of the recorder to and fro on the tape.

I suppose I had taken the record tape clockwork and mouse mill apart 20 different times, and on the evening of the 2d of April, after Merode relieved me, I set to work to wind a new motor coil for the mouse mill, which had worked so very badly all day that rather than struggle with it longer I had determined to sit up all night and build a new mill.

The cable house at Santiago is a most lonesome place, particularly at night, but a Spanish sentinel was supposed to pass the door every three minutes. These poor fellows were rarely paid, and often looked in at the door to beg a cigarette. So when the outside door opened behind us that evening I supposed the incomer was the sentinel, and I did not even look around till an amused voice exclaimed, "Aha, senors, buenos noches!"

A Spanish sentinel begging a cigarette does not speak in that tone, so Merode and I faced round with a jump. There stood a rather tall, good looking young fellow, in a white duck suit and white cap, regarding us keenly, and a step behind him was a typical Cuban rebel—sombbrero, long mustachios, broad belt, long boots, revolver and machete.

In an instant Merode was on his feet and shouted, "Sentinel!" at which our unexpected visitors laughed good humoredly, and the Cuban said, "I must beg the senor telegrafista not to distress himself concerning the worthy sentinel, for that watchful soldier is now lying comfortably on his back outside, with a gag in his mouth, and his hands are tied to his feet."

"Well, who are you and what do you want here?" I exclaimed in Spanish.

"The young man in white duck laughed. "You are an American; anybody could tell that by your Spanish. Oh, I know about you. Speak English."

"Certainly," I replied. "What do you want here?"

"The news."

"What news?"

"Are the Spanish warships, Vizcaya and Oquendo, still at Porto Rico? Has the torpedo flotilla arrived there, or has it gone to St. Vincent, at Cape Verde?"

"It is contrary to the rules of the cable company for me to give such information," I replied. "Besides, all these Spanish government messages are in cipher, which I am not supposed to know anything about."

"Don't let the cipher trouble you," he replied laughing. "I have the key to their cipher all right."

"As to who I am," he continued, "my name's Macomber. I am the correspondent of the ——" He named an American journal. "News as to the whereabouts of the Spanish torpedo boats and those cruisers would be valuable just now, not only to my paper, but to the American navy at Key West. Now, you are an American, and a good patriot, I dare say. Will you help us out?"

"I'm a good patriot," said I. "And I am also an honest man, employed here to do a certain duty, which I will not betray."

"You will not help me, then? Very well, I shall examine your tapes by force."

"It is not my business to fight for Spain," said I. "I have no force to resist you, but I will not help you."

"Thanks. That's all I ask. Just you sit quiet."

"Do you think you can read our tapes?" I asked incredulously.

"Sure. I was a cable operator three years."

"But where did you get your cipher key?"

"That's a matter that was arranged in Havana three months ago. Your tape bobbins for the current week are in the table drawer, I presume?"

"Look for yourself," I said. "But my fellow operator here is a Spaniard. I do not speak for him. Senor Merode," I said in Spanish, "these gentlemen wish to see the record tapes."

Merode had stood listening, making out what we said with difficulty. "Nunca!" (never) he exclaimed excitedly and made a jump for the big table drawer, with some notion, I think, of destroying the tapes. He was a plucky fellow. But the Cuban seized him by the collar before he could open the drawer, flung him violently backward on the floor and drew his machete.

"Don't hurt him, Luiz," shouted Macomber, and then, after a steady glance at me, he stepped to the drawer himself and took out the rolls of tape.

"This will be a somewhat long and tedious business," he remarked, beginning to unroll one of them. "You might help me if you would, but at least oblige me by turning up the lamp a little and placing it on the table here."

"Thanks," he went on when I had complied, and he began rapidly unrolling the tape through his fingers. He read well and fast, and his running comment amused me.

"Oh, this is a dandy siphon of yours, isn't it?" "What ails your mouse mill?" "Say, friend, your record here looks like the teeth of an old, dull buck saw."

"Your ink's coagulated."

I sat back and quietly looked on. Merode still lay on the floor. The Cuban stood watching us both. If Merode stirred, he shook his machete at him. Thus fully an hour passed. It seemed much more than an hour indeed before our American visitor found what he sought.

"Ah!" he exclaimed at last. "Here we are. So the Vizcaya and Oquendo left Porto Rico for St. Vincent last Sunday. Good. Blanco is informed that the torpedo flotilla is going to St. Vincent, too, instead of coming to Havana. That's all I wanted to know," he continued, turning to me. "Sorry to leave your tapes in such a mess, but I really cannot stop to roll them up again, for I must be well out to sea before daylight. Oblige us now, both of you, by remaining quiet here after we bid you good night."

But just then there was a new noise outside. The door opening to the street was flung back, and there stood a Spanish lieutenant from the fort, with half a dozen soldiers at his back, for the Spanish sentry—a boy of 18—whom they had gagged and tied up outside of the house, had proved more nimble than they had thought him. He had worked himself loose and had run to the fort for aid.

The Cuban turned instantly, killed the lieutenant with a swing of his machete and was at once shot down by a soldier who fired over the shoulder of his falling officer.

Macomber showed better judgment if less courage. He dashed the lamp out and grasped me by the arm. "Help me out," he said.

It would be difficult for any one to resist the appeal of a fellow countryman at such a time. While the soldiers rushed in, tramping and falling over the slain men and Merode, I pulled the American after me through a door, back of the tables, which opened into our battery room. In this back room was a window looking out on the harbor side, from which Macomber swung in an instant and decamped without a word. I had time to get forward into the cable room before Merode, who had regained his feet, struck a match and relighted the lamp. Of the gawsome spectacle which the light revealed I will not speak.

After the manner of Spanish justice, both Merode and myself were put under arrest pending an investigation, which showed that neither of us knew anything about the affair. Yet the commandant at Santiago suspected that I had planned it and sent me under arrest to Havana by steamer the following evening.

I expected to remain in Las Cabanas for the rest of my days, but was dismissed without trial the second day after arriving there and left Havana along with 180 other Americans on the following Sunday.—Youth's Companion.

Allopathic, homoeopathic, hydropathic, hygienic, psychopathic, electric, physio-medical, dosimetric, bio-chemical, official and other systems investigated and the best principles of each applied for conditions in which they have proved the most beneficial. No one school of medicine has all the good things, there is some one remedy that is best of all in each. The real physician must represent not one school system or path, but the best of all in all its entirety, study and compare all curative measures, then select and apply the pleasantest, safest and surest. It is better to cure by any system that will accomplish such result than to obstinately insist on "Not cured, but cured."

TO THE PUBLIC. It is but just to you and myself that I make some mention of my illness for the work I would undertake. I came of a medical family. I have attended and hold credentials from leading colleges of various schools or systems of medicine. For years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in state and national medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience as an intimate associate of distinguished experts and familiar with their methods; am something of a medical author and have been professor in reputable medical colleges. These statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who are afflicted and desire my services. Office practice preferred, but if properly arranged for visits will be made any distance. Respectfully,

A SPANISH BRAVADO.

A Striking Description of the Daring and Courage Displayed by the Retired General Who Would Not Permit an Englishman to Outdo Him.

The realistic Spanish novelist, Valdes, in one of his most popular stories ("Sister San Suplice," translated by Nathan Haskell Dole) gives a description of a retired Spanish general's afternoon out which will illuminate many chivalric incidents in Spanish life and aptly illustrates the reckless daring and courage of which the average haughty don is liberally possessed. The scene is a sort of picnic grounds in the outskirts of Seville:

"Meantime the animation had been on the increase among the ruffians. The period of unmanly action had come. One of them climbed upon the table to make a speech, and the others, by way of applause, threw sherry and manzanilla in his face. Another was trying to lift with his teeth a companion whom drunkenness had stretched out on the floor. He did not succeed. He merely tore his sack coat. Still others were committing absurd and extravagant notions, making a great noise and uproar. The count remained grave and silent, drinking one glass of sherry after another. But his eyes were no longer, as usual, incomprehensible and unfathomable, like those of a man tired of life. Though he did not speak or move about he seemed a different man.

"The Englishman had taken off his jacket and waistcoat, and, rolling up his shirt sleeves, was exhibiting his biceps, which were really powerful, and trying to break empty bottles on his arm. Once blood had come, but he went on breaking the bottles without paying any attention to it. Then he asked the waiter to bring a bottle of rum and a large glass. He filled this to the brim with the liquor, and then slowly, without moving a muscle or even winking, he drained it to the bottom. Then he sat down at the table opposite the count and said solemnly:

"You can't do that."
"A flash of fury glared through the bareheaded nobleman's eyes, but he succeeded in restraining himself, and, turning the rest of the bottle into the glass, he calmly ordered the waiter to bring him some pepper. He threw in a pinch of it, then threw into it his cigar ashes heaped up before him, and, without saying a word, with the same scornful, contemptuous smile, drained the glass, and, not content with that, bit it in pieces. We saw his lips spotted with blood. The company received with oles and shouts of triumph this proof of an unconquerable stomach, in which it seemed as though the national honor were concerned.

"Our neighbors in the other booths must have reached the same happy grade of temperance, for nothing was heard but extravagant shouts, the crashing of glasses, coarse laughter and swearing.

"The count was not yet satisfied with his victory over the Englishman. While he was swallowing with apparent calmness the glasses of liquor which were offered to him he did not cease to devour him with his eyes, carried away by a dull madness, which soon broke out of his impassive face that moved, gleamed more and more ferociously, like those of a madman when a straitjacket has been put on him. The Englishman continued to boast of his strength. He was now thoroughly intoxicated and talking impudently enough to the others, who were not so drunk.

"So you are very valiant, are you?" asked the count, still smiling disdainfully.

"More than you," retorted the Englishman.

"Don Jemaro started to spring at him, but the others restrained him. Soon calming himself, he said:

"If you are so brave, why not put your hand on the table?"

"What for?"

"To pin it down with mine."

"The Englishman, without an instant's hesitation, stretched out his huge, brawny hand. The count took out of his pocket a damasked dagger and laid his delicate, gentlemanly hand on the Englishman's, and without hesitation and with a ferocious grip he raised the point with the other and drove it through both into the table.

"The women uttered a cry of terror. All of us men ran to their assistance. A few left the place in search of help. In an instant our booth was filled with blood. From the wounds great drops of blood streamed, staining the handkerchiefs which we applied to them.

"A doctor who happened to be among the bystanders dressed the wounds provisionally with the few means at his disposal. The count smiled while they were dressing his hand. The Englishman was as sick as a horse and vomiting. Soon the count was doing the same, and both were taken to such rooms as the establishment had to offer and went to bed. Every one left, commenting on the barbarism of the deed."

If She Were a Man.

"Oh," she suddenly exclaimed, "I wish I were a man."

"What would you do?" he asked.

"I'll not say what I would do, but there is one thing I will confess that I wouldn't do."

"And that is?"

"I wouldn't sit around as if I had handcuffs on when I happened to be alone with a girl."—Cleveland Leader.

HE SAVED THE MILK.

Required Genius to Do It, but He Was Equal to the Occasion.

"Talking about cows," said Andy Henderson, "I really think that I had one of the most peculiar experiences with the animals in question that ever befell a citizen of west Texas. It was soon after I went to El Paso, some ten years ago, and before I had got familiar with the vagaries of the El Paso climate.

"I had settled on a very pretty ranch some miles out of the progressive frontier city and was doing nicely until I decided to go into the butter business. I sent east for a dozen fine Jersey cows and began operations. Well, the cows came on, and I hustled the butter business from the jump. Things progressed nicely for a month, when the weather grew very warm and the atmosphere very dry. The Rio Grande dwindled until a roach could have waded across. Every bit of moisture disappeared, but this did not affect me, because I had a fine artesian well on the ranch and plenty of water. I observed, however, that my cows were losing milk day by day, until at last they were perfectly dry. I was astounded, for they had plenty of feed and lots of water from the well. I couldn't understand it and determined to investigate.

"I got up an hour before daylight and examined the cows, and, to my astonishment, I found the udders of the cows heavy with milk. I did not milk the animals, but simply watched and waited developments. Day dawned and the cows lazily meandered into the pasture, and I followed. The sun came up, and with the sun came the terrible dryness, but it didn't faze me in the least. What knocked me out was the sight of my cows' udders. They were growing smaller and smaller as I looked until they were as flaccid as a punctured tire. Then I tumbled. The dryness of the atmosphere simply evaporated the milk through the walls of the udder.

"What did I do? Why, I varnished the milking apparatus of the beasts and the milk couldn't ooze through the flesh. That stopped it."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A SENSE OF HUMOR.

It Is a Precious Gift and Helps to Lighten Life's Way.

I regard a sense of humor as one of the most precious gifts that can be vouchsafed to a human being. He is not necessarily a better man for having it, but he is a happier one. It renders him indifferent to good or bad fortune. It enables him to enjoy his own discomfiture.

Blessed with this sense he is never unduly elated or cast down. No one can ruffle his temper. No abuse disturbs his equanimity. Boreds do not bore him. Humbugs do not humbug him. Solemn airs do not impose on him. Sentimental gush does not influence him. The follies of the moment have no hold on him. Titles and decorations are but childish baubles in his eyes. Prejudice does not warp his judgment. He is never in conceit or out of conceit with himself. He abhors all dogmatism. The world is a stage on which actors strut and fret for his edification and amusement, and he pursues the even current of his way, invulnerable, doing what is right and proper according to his lights, but utterly indifferent whether what he does finds approval or disapproval from others.

If Hamlet had had any sense of humor, he would not have been a nuisance to himself and to all surrounding him.—London Truth.

Spending Money.

It is an excellent thing to give children as soon as they arrive at about 12 years, or even before, a little allowance for spending money and an account book. Show them how to keep an account of small expenditures and make it a condition that they do so if they wish to receive their allowance. There is no instruction more necessary to children than instruction in the wise management of money. Children should be taught early what true economy is and to exercise their judgment—not their fancy—in making purchases. A little instruction now, and experience if need be, of the genuine discomforts of extravagance may save them from much suffering in after years.—New York Ledger.

He Had Changed.

A widow once called upon an artist and asked him to paint a portrait of her husband. "When can he sit?" inquired the artist. "He can't sit at all," said the widow, "he's dead." "Then you will have to furnish me with his photograph," said the artist. "He never had his picture taken," said the widow. Nevertheless the artist undertook the job, and when he had finished the work he asked the widow to come and see it. "It's a fine picture," said she, "and you'll please send it to my home—but how the old man has changed." Boston Herald.

He Saw the Play.

They were giving "She Stoops to Conquer" in a small provincial town. A penniless individual, anxious to see the play, stalked past the ticket office in a careless, independent sort of way. When stopped and asked by what right he went in without paying, he replied: "By what right? I am Oliver Goldsmith, the author of the piece they are going to perform!" "Ah, beg pardon, sir," said the check taker, making a bow.

And Goldsmith walked in to see his play.—London Answers.

Why Is It Ever Thus?

The whole crowd of men raved of her beauty. She was divine, they said, incomparably divine, and gloriously beautiful. So she was, just as they had said. But one man did not think so. Her brother. Vin.

Burdette Pictures the Schoolboy Bully
And the bullies in the school. I guess there will always be bullies in all schools. There were some mean ones in the kindergarten. The boy bully was always a coward, of course; a bit of a sneak as well, cringing to the big boys and brutal to the little ones. In the presence of the teacher he was half crazed with terror, crying out, "What have I to do with thee?" But the weak pupil, whom he could handle, he mauled without mercy. It was his nature to be brutal. Rather than not have anything to worry he would torture a hog, even though he had to live with the animal to get at him. Robert J. Burdette in Ladies' Home Journal.

A Gun with a Grim History.

A correspondent "who fit through the war" writes: "Will a man be allowed to carry the gun he prefers in the war? I have one that saw service in every battle of the late war, and which, to my certain knowledge, has killed 120 men. I carried a notebook with me the first two years of the war, and kept count, till it got to be such an ordinary thing that I lost interest in it. But I know that it has killed 120, and that it is in as good fighting trim now as it was then. I have come to have an affection for it, and if I enlist I hope they'll let me carry it with me. It's getting rusty, and needs exercise."—Atlanta Constitution.

Captain McDonald Explains.

Benton Harbor, July 25, Editor of EVENING NEWS:—In your Saturday's issue there appeared a notice of foreclosure proceeding against me in favor of Mrs. Sarah R. Worth, through her brother Wells Riford, for $500, secured by mortgage. This property does not belong to me and has not for over two years although I borrowed the money. I am not Shylock, consequently I am not foreclosing land contracts that I hold against poor people especially in such times as these, and when my security is as good as Mrs. Worth's. And not boasting over this matter, when the court is willing to give me a deed, I will put up the amount of this mortgage with interest and other expenses and then feel that I have made $300 very easily.

JAMES McDONALD.

TWO BIBLE STORIES.

They Were Read in Camp by Corporal Ed. J. Stevens.

In his letter to the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society Corporal Ed J. Stevens wrote that every night he read a chapter from his Bible. One evening one of the roughest boys in camp asked him to read aloud. He opened the book at Isaiah 55, 1-13. After the reading the boy remarked, "I thought the Bible was written for other folks, but that chapter means me." Next night Corporal Stevens read from Jeremiah 17, 1-23, and the same boy said: "That means Spain."

Here are the two texts which Corporal Stevens read:

ISAIAH 55: 1-13.

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.

Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live: and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

Behold I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.

Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of the Lord thy God and for the Holy One of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found; call ye upon him while he is near.

Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon.

For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater:

So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

JEREMIAH—17: 1-23.

The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars.

Whilst their children remember their altars and their groves by their green trees upon the high hills.

O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

And thou, even thyself, shalt be discontinued from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger which shall burn forever.

Thus saith the Lord: Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

For he shall be like the heat in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: Who can know it?

I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

As the partridge sitteth on eggs and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.

O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters.

Hear me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise.

Behold, they say unto me: Where is the word of the Lord? Let it come now.

As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee: neither have I desired the woful day; thou knowest that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

Be not a terror unto me; thou art my hope in the day of evil. Let them be confounded that persecute me but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let me not be dismayed; bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

Thus saith the Lord unto me; go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in and by the which they go out and in all the gates of Jerusalem.

And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates:

Thus saith the Lord; Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem;

Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day as I commanded your fathers.

But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Thirteen-Year-Old Hartford Boy Died Friday from His Injuries.

Mrs. Fred Hopkins and Mrs. H. Woodley of this city and Mrs. George Burkhard of St. Joseph were called to Hartford Saturday by the death of their 13-year-old brother who died last Friday night from the effects of an accident which occurred last Wednesday. The little fellow was driving a team attached to a heavy lumber wagon from his father's farm outside of Hartford when one of the lines fell from his hand over the dash board. He stepped over the dash board to the wagon tongue and slipped and fell under the wagon in such a manner that the wheels passed over the small of his back. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon and was largely attended.
